Dear Editor,

I would like to point out an omission to an article in the March 29, 1990 issue of the Banner.

The Most Valuable Player for the varsity boys basketball team was Bryce Silver. This omission was brought to the attention of the newspaper staff but I was informed that John Middlekauff chose not to list this award as a sort of silent protest. Whether or not he, or anyone else agrees with the choice of recipient does not alter the fact that Bryce did receive this award. The coach had his reasons for choosing Bryce and explained these reasons at the awards banquet. I feel strongly that Bryce deserves to be recognized along with the other award winners, regardless of Mr. Middlekauff's personal feelings.

Franklintown highlights

The deadline for submission of plans for consideration at the May 8, 1990 meeting of the commission was set for 9 p.m. on Wednesday, April 25th.

Sketch Plan-Property off Rt. 194

Mr. Lusk and Mr. McGee reviewed a sketch plan of this property (formerly the tract that was being considered for Mr. Ed Sok). This sketch showed a proposed 18 dwelling units in the township, adjacent to a tract in Franklintown Borough showing 31 mobile homes. The plan was discussed between Mr. Lusk and Mr. McGee and the commission and Mr. Grove.

Mr. Ralph Niblick said that he wished to enter a complaint that a property owner across the road from his property is blocking the drainage, thus effecting Mr. Niblick's drainage. The commission and Mr. Grove told Mr. Niblick that the information will be given to the supervisors for their attention.

Mahlon McCoy-2 lots-Finah-Franklin Church & Meadow View Roads

Engineer Grove reviewed his review letter dated 4/2/90. It was noted that the plan created one building lot with the residual being added to other lands of Mr. McCoy and that the sewage module has been approved by DER and the monuments have been installed. The commission voted to recommend approval of the plan.

Kiw Acres-Final-Spring Drive Road-6 lots

Engineer Grove reviewed his review letter of 4/2/90 and it was noted that both of the comments contained in the letter have been satisfied and that the sewage module has been approved by DER. The commission voted to recommend approval of this plan.

Sketch Plan-Jonathan Hynson-Cor. Capitol Hill and Franklintown Roads

Mr. Hynson is contemplating splitting a 10.3 acre tract into two or more tracts. He said that there are two "good" sewage tests on the tract. The potential subdivision was discussed between Mr. Hynson and the commission and Mr. Grove.

Mr. Tom Wilders questioned the commission on what needs to be done in connection with his wife installing a beauty shop in their house at 955 South Mountain Road. Mr. Grove noted that it would probably be necessary to submit a sewage module for approval by the township and DER because of added sewage needs. The need for a land development plan was also determined. It was decided that the Board of Supervisors will need to decide if this type of a change requires a land development plan. On motion the commission voted to recommend to the Board of Supervisors that the plan be disapproved due to the need for calculation of storm water runoff and other open items pertinent to the plan.

Kenneth Lin Land Development Plan-Coffeetown Road

Engineer Grove reviewed his review letter dated 4/3/90-this contained a bonding amount recommendation of $5,930.00 for construction of detention pond. It was noted that the approval of the plan does not constitute approval of the septic system design and installation-this must be approved through the sewage permitting process. The commission voted to recommend approval of this plan subject to a notation on the plan that lot #2 is lands now or formerly of Kenneth Lin (or note the recording reference).

Sketch Plan-George Watts-Between U.S. Rt. 15 and Capitol Hill Road

This sketch plan showed a 100 x 40 building on a parcel of land of about 4 acres situated between U.S. Rt. 15 and Capitol Hill Road-the purpose would be for rental units 10 x 20 each for storage purposes. There would be no need for sewage or water. The plan was reviewed and discussed between the commission, Mr. Watts and Mr. Grove.

Libraries change in these changing times

By Suzanne Eng

The town library in Dillsburg is nothing like the library I visited when I was a child and teenager.

The library of my youth was a huge two-story brick building that almost caused you to bow your head in reverence when you stepped through its massive portal. What I remember most is the darkness. Though the library had ten-foot high, narrow windows across its front, the library was a dark, gloomy place. It had dark paneled walls, dark heavy furniture, dark recesses and stacks of books almost to the ceiling. At least from the sort stature of my childhood they looked like they went up to the ceiling. I loved it.

People were quiet in that library. They only time they went there was when they had some serious work to do at the long library tables with their reading lamps strategically placed every five feet or so. I remember being embarrassed at the scratching noise of my chair as I pushed it away from the table when my evening's work was done. I put together some very nice high school reports in that library.

If I were still in high school (oh, woe, no) I could still get those great papers written using information from our own Dillsburg library. But when I enter that facility-right downtown at 17 S. Baltimore Street, across the street from the bank-I don't have that feeling of awe and reverence.

Comfortable is the word that comes to my mind when I think of our town library. Though I speak in quiet tones I don't whisper or feel the need to talk in a hushed voice. The large rooms are bright and filled with so many things the library of old didn't have. (The first thing you pass is a computer that will help you gather almost any information from other libraries in the York County Library System if Dillsburg doesn't have it. Emily, our librarian says "If we don't have what you're looking for, we can probably get it.")

The library has many books for every taste and informational need are carried in the periodical section as well as the Patriot-News, York Daily Record and Banner and the New York Times.

Long-playing records for children and adults as well as a wide variety of audio cassettes-talking books, music-are yours for the borrowing.

Videos are available for three-day loans with only a $1.00 maintenance fee charged.

Storytime will entrance every young listener with fabulous tales told by volunteer readers (usually moms). Storytime provide an entertaining way of instilling a love for books in young children. Times are 7:00 to 7:30 p.m. on Mondays for pre-school children and 3:00 to 4:00 p.m. on Fridays for school-age youngsters. All children are welcome. They don't need an invitation nor do they need to be registered! Just bring them!

Did I mention books? Books for those who want a best seller or older fiction, non-fiction, biographies, instruction, information. Even books for those who have difficulty reading. There are large print books for the visually handicapped and a literacy collection for adults who are learning to read.

Have an hour to spare? Want to find something constructive to do while the kids are at soccer or baseball practice or scouts and you don't want to drive all the way home before picking them up or spend the time spending money? Need to help your 6th grader with a big report? Come to your town library Monday, Wednesday or Friday evenings it's open until 8 p.m.

Tuesdays and Thursdays the library hours are 10:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m.; Saturdays 10:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.

Come to visit, stay to read.

Library Friends to hold general meeting

The Friends of the Dillsburg Library will be holding a general meeting on Wednesday, May 2 beginning at 7:30 p.m. at the library. The library is located at 17 S. Baltimore Street in Dillsburg.

The Dillsburg area has grown dramatically in the last few years. "We are hoping to draw some of the new people in our district to our Friends group at the same time encourage former Friends and other residents to join us, too," said Sue Marsh, chairman of the group's membership drive.

"You can do as much or as little as your time will allow," Marsh said. "We have many Friends who help out for just an hour or two a year, as during our annual book sale. We have Friends who work in the library on a regular weekly basis; and, there are those who contribute considerable time to one of our major projects like the summer reading program which is gearing up right now," she added.

In the past the Friends collected a nominal dues to cover the postage of the newsletter. "We are no longer collecting dues or mailing the newsletter," said Mary Lou Berchini, charter member and current president of the Friends. "We are hoping that this will let people see that the Friends organization is for everyone who feels he or she has something to contribute to the town's library," she said.

The public is invited to attend the general meeting to meet the current Friends, learn more about the organization and to enjoy refreshments that will be provided. Election of officers will also take place at the meeting.

Annual census to start

The Northern York County School District will conduct its annual census as required by the Pennsylvania Department of Education. District residents will be polled to establish a count of those youngsters not already enrolled in public schools and to bring up-to-date the tax records of the various municipalities. Each census taker will carry proper identification from the Northern York County School District.

The Dental Office of PETER H. DRAKE, D.D.S.
Is Pleased To Announce The Completion Of Their NEWLY EXPANDED OFFICE!

Nearly a year ago our patients said that we needed more room to help accommodate emergency cases and to allow a more flexible, less regimented schedule. So after only 2½ years in business we jumped in again and nearly doubled our office space to accommodate our patients.

With this new expansion, many of our patients had some concerns about the cost and quality of care they will be receiving. Dr. Drake takes the time here to answer some of these concerns.

Question: Will the cost of my dental care still be reasonable at your office?

Dr. Drake's response: Yes! I don't anticipate raising my prices to help pay for this addition. What I hope to do is accommodate more patients which should provide income to finance the new wing. Originally, we had 2 treatment rooms that my hygienist, Paula Frank, and I used. Because we take the time to sanitize each room after a patient leaves, we found our patients used to have to wait to receive treatment. Now that we have 4 treatment rooms we can alternate room usage, patients wait less to receive treatment, and we can see more patients daily without compromising our sterilization procedure.

Question: I have friends who want to come to your office for treatment but in the past it was often difficult to get an appointment due to your congested schedule. They notice that your parking lot frequently looks full and are hesitant to call for an appointment. Has the new wing helped alleviate this problem?

Dr. Drake's response: Yes, this new addition has helped open up our schedule. Remember, we started out with only 2 treatment rooms and our building size limited the number of patients we could see. We now have more Evening and Saturday appointments available and can see more new patients within 2 weeks. As far as the parking lot is concerned, you have to realize that at certain times in our day we could have 4 patients in our office (2 coming and 2 leaving) as well as the 4 to 6 staff members necessary to accommodate these patients. That is a lot of cars, but it is no indication that we aren't able to accommodate new patients.

Dr. Drake and his staff hope these candid responses will help patients to realize how we are always trying to improve the quality of care given at our office while still maintaining a comfortable atmosphere

Question: The reason my family comes to your office is because you provide quality dental care and take time to talk to us about our treatment. With this new expansion, can we expect the same comfortable, considerate treatment?

Dr. Drake's response: We will continue to spend the time to provide the same high quality treatment while maintaining an atmosphere of caring and concern. I have built my practice on this idea and I will not become a fast paced practice in order to make more money. It is true that we will be seeing more patients but this additional time in our schedule is because we have new, more flexible office space, not because we are spending less time with our patients.

Question: Since you are seeing more patients, will you begin to limit what types of treatment you will offer your patients?

Dr. Drake's response: We will still offer full general dental treatment to our patients. This includes preventive treatment, restorations, crowns, bridges, partial dentures, complete dentures, cosmetic procedures (like veneers and bleachings), root canal treatment, gum disease treatment and implants.

I believe that a general dentist possesses the skills and knowledge to provide all of these services. However, it is important for patients to realize that a good dentist is one someone who can treat all problems in his or her office. A good dentist is someone who can identify a problem, treat that problem when appropriate and refer to a specialist when the treatment is beyond the skills of that dentist. That is why I refer patients to specialists for difficult extraction cases, advanced gum disease cases, difficult root canal cases or for surgical procedures necessary for implants. In this office, I feel a team approach gives the patient excellent treatment. The team not only includes my office staff and myself but extends beyond the doors of my office to include orthodontists, periodontists, oral surgeons, root canal specialists, and prosthetic dentists.
